

Online seminar: Your rights at work

Working hours, minimum wage, sick leave, termination of employment ... Employees have different rights, but also obligations. We inform you about the most important regulations and tell you in which cases you have to pay attention. Additionally, we give you some tips where you can find help in case of problems with your employer.

The online seminar takes place in cooperation with the project Fair Integration (part of the network IQ “Integration through qualification”) at the DGB-Bildungswerk Thüringen e.V. (Educational Institute of the German Federation of Trade Unions in Thuringia). The project also offers individual advice for labour law-related questions for third country nationals. You can find all information on how to contact us here: <https://corona.dgb-bwt.de/en/consultation-request>

* Participation takes place on a server of the DGB-Bildungswerk Thüringen e.V. via BigBlueButton. A web-browser is all you need to participate: a current version of Firefox or Chrome is suited best, no special software necessary.

To participate, there is no microphone or camera needed. If available, both will automatically be turned off upon entering the room. For questions during the webinar camera and microphone can be used, but there is also a chat available, in which questions can be posed.
